9 Feng Shui Tips To Attract Money In 7 Days

Day 1: Clear Your Front Entrance

In Feng Shui, the Front Entrance is considered the 'Mouth of Chi' - it's the main way energy and wealth enter your home.

A cluttered or dark entrance blocks prosperity. To activate this space, sweep it clean, ensure it's well-lit, and fix any broken fixtures.

Place a vibrant welcome mat, hang a wind chime, or add two healthy plants for balance and beauty. Avoid shoes scattered outside or obstacles in the walkway.

This helps welcome wealth and opportunities with open arms.

Day 2: Add a Feng Shui Wealth Bowl

The wealth bowl symbolizes money accumulation. You can create one using a glass, ceramic, or metal bowl. Fill it with symbols of abundance-gold coins, citrine crystals, rice grains, fake currency, or real money.

Add affirmations like 'Money flows to me easily' written on small papers. Place this bowl in your southeast corner or home office.

Recharge it under moonlight or place a citrine stone nearby for maximum activation. Don't let it collect dust-it must stay energized.

Day 3: Fix Water Leaks Immediately

Water leaks, whether in the kitchen, bathroom, or pipes, symbolize the steady draining of your finances.

In Feng Shui, water represents wealth. When it escapes uncontrollably, it indicates loss.

Check all taps, flushes, and connections for leaks. Place a mirror or a metal coin near repaired spots to symbolically 'seal' the leak.

Also ensure water tanks and aquariums are clean and full-this promotes flow and abundance instead of leakage and stagnation.

Day 4: Tidy Your Wallet

Your wallet represents how you treat and attract money.

Avoid torn, empty, or dirty wallets. Clean it regularly. Add a high-value note (like a $50 or 500), store it neatly, and don't overload with receipts.

Choose lucky colors based on Feng Shui elements: red for Fire (wealth energy), black for Water (money flow), and green for Wood (growth).

Keep a Chinese coin tied with red thread, or a citrine chip inside to invite prosperity.

Day 5: Use Mirrors To Reflect Abundance

Mirrors expand and double the energy in a space.

When used correctly, they reflect abundance-especially if placed to reflect a dining table, symbolizing more food and wealth.

Never place mirrors facing the front door, bathroom, or bed-it deflects good energy. Ensure mirrors are clean, full (not broken or cracked), and hung at the right height.

Circular or oval mirrors are most auspicious. You can even energize them by facing them toward a wealth symbol.

Day 6: Decorate with Lucky Bamboo

Lucky bamboo is one of the most popular Feng Shui plants.

Use 3 stalks for happiness, 5 for health, and 8 for wealth. Place it in a glass vase with pebbles and water, tied with a red ribbon.

Position it in the east for family or southeast for wealth. Replace the water weekly and avoid dying leaves.

This plant promotes upward growth and amplifies good fortune over time.

Day 7: Activate the Southeast Corner

The southeast corner is your home's wealth zone. To find it, stand at the center of your home with a compass.

Activate it with green plants, wood furniture, wealth symbols (like a Money Frog, Laughing Buddha, or Gold Ingots).

Avoid fire elements like candles in this area. Keep it clean, well-lit, and avoid bathrooms or trash cans here.

Use green, brown, and purple colors in this space to stimulate financial luck.

Day 8: Remove Broken or Dead Items

Clutter is a silent wealth blocker. It prevents Chi from flowing freely and attracts stagnant, negative energy.

Go through your home and discard broken electronics, chipped dishes, worn-out decor, and dead plants.

Focus especially on storage areas, corners, and underneath furniture. Clean and organize regularly.

A clutter-free home welcomes fresh energy and new financial opportunities.

Day 9: Sleep With Your Head Supported

A solid bed placement brings stable income and mental clarity.

Place your bed against a solid wall with a sturdy headboard. Avoid aligning it with the door or placing it under a window.

This gives you energetic support, security, and restful sleep. Don't store things under the bed-it blocks energy. Sleeping well impacts your decision-making, motivation, and ability to manifest wealth.
